Findings

The findings of the analysis of Student's Feedback on Curriculum indicate that most of the students agree that the curricula of the various courses provide employment and entrepreneurship opportunities in the local as well as global job market. More over most of the students agree that courses are well structured and the modules are self-sufficient for their understanding of their respective subjects. Apart from the emphasis on sustainability and ethics the courses and curricula also serve their understanding of basic and fundamental principles of their subjects along with modern aspects which is the need of time.
